

Financial Services Guide

We are proud to offer strategic independent advice which means that we don't charge commissions, we aren't controlled by product providers, and we aren't restricted to a limited range of financial products.

This FSG is authorised for distribution by Independent Advisory Partners Pty Ltd.

Why independence matters?

It was important to us to build a foundation for trusted advice from the beginning.

1. We don't charge commissions.
2. We aren't owned or controlled by a product manufacturer.
3. We have the freedom to recommend what we think is best for you.

These three things mean there are no conflicts of interest that could unreasonably influence our advice. You might expect this to be the norm for financial advisers but actually there are very few advisers that comply with all of these three things. In fact, this is so important, the government has restricted the use of terms 'independent', 'unbiased' and 'impartial' for use only by the very few firms who meet these criteria.

We actually go one step further than the governments rules and we also don't charge asset-based fees.

What to expect

If you engage us for personal advice, we will provide a Statement of Advice (SoA) that will explain the basis for our advice, the main risks associated with the advice, the cost to you of implementing the advice, the benefits we receive and any conflicts of interest which may influence the advice.

We will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) where we recommend a financial product other than securities. This contains information to help you understand the product being recommended.

At all times you are able to contact us and ask questions about our advice and the products we recommend.

You can provide instructions to us in writing, via phone or via email. In some cases, we may require you to provide signed instructions.

We may provide further advice to you to keep your plan up to date for changes in your circumstances, changes in the law and changes in the economy and products.

If we provide further advice, it will be documented in a Record of Advice (RoA) which we retain on file. You can request a copy of the RoA document at any time up to 7 years after the advice is provided.
